

List of accepted posters

- Judith Atzler and Guido Halder, “The Xnoun + Nazi Phenomenon from a Sociolinguistic Perspective”
- Thomas Borer, “The Person Case Constraint in Swiss German – A Movement Analysis”
- Conni Covington, “A Markedness-Model-Based Analysis of CMC: Evidence from German-Language Bilinguals in Social Media”
- Emily Krauter, “Kiezdeutsch, Hood German, Street Slang or simply Laziness? Perceptions of Multiethnic German Dialects and the Problem of Naming Them”
- Katherina Macha, “Interactional Discourse Constructions Corpus-based: Perspective, Selection, Extension”
- Laura Catharine Smith and Katharina Schuhmann, “Do L2 Learners of German Increase in Trochaic Sensitivity with Increased Proficiency: The Case of German Plurals”
- Joel Stark, “Structural Variation in Relative Pronouns in Earlier Pennsylvania German”
- James Stratton, “The Modification Extension of Adverbials in Modern Standard German: An Investigation of the Adjective Intensifiers: gut, voll, echt, richtig and saumäßig”
- Joakim Veia and Christer Johannsen, “A Cognitive Account of Gaps in Adjective Declension in Mainland Scandinavian”
- Patricia Wiley, “Addressee Orientation: Time, Place, and the German Particles eben and gerade”
- Zoë Wyatt, “Front Rounded Vowels in New Braunfels Texas German”